He is most famous for hosting the Radio 4 show Just a Minute in which he keeps control over a roll-call of celebrity contenders attempting to talk on a subject for sixty seconds without hesitation, repetition or deviation; he has presented this show for over 40 years. Nicholas is also famous for presenting the quiz show Sale of the Century for a record 14 years in the 1970s and 1980s which attracted over 21 million viewers at its peak. In 2003 he was given an OBE for services to the theatre and broadcasting.

Helen Thistlethwaite, Marketing Officer for Teesdale Village Halls Consortium who has organised the shows with Sue Simons who works with lots of celebrities said: "We are thrilled that Nicholas has requested to perform his show in Teesdale's village halls. After the success of the Paul Daniels shows in 2005 it is a privilege that a well known celebrity wants to perform intimate shows in our community venues and we look forward to welcoming him to Teesdale."

Nicholas said of the shows: "I particularly wanted to come up to the Teesdale area to meet the local people and explore the beautiful countryside and surrounding areas. The village halls are an ideal location as I love working with small audiences as there is so much interaction with my show and everyone will feel part of it"

Trusthouse Charitable Foundation

Trusthouse was formed in 1997 when the Council of Forte inherited shares in Granada. Grants are made from the total return on its investment portfolio and it is governed by a board of trustees. Trusthouse currently awards around 350 grants a year totalling circa £2million. The average grant is £6,000 though they can range from £1,000 - £30,000. The Trustees completed a review of the grants criteria in 2008 and have given two overarching themes to their grants:

Rural Issues

They accept applications from local and national charities or not for profit organisations which are addressing issues in needy rural areas. Rural in this context means cities, towns, villages and areas with 10,000 or less inhabitants. They are interested in, for example, projects providing transport for the elderly, disabled or disadvantaged; contact networks for young disabled people; projects which encourage a sense of community such as community centres and village halls; employment training schemes especially those promoting local, traditional crafts and projects addressing issues such as drug/alcohol misuse or homelessness.

Urban Deprivation

They accept applications from local or national charities or not for profit organisations which are working with residents of urban areas (i.e. more than 10,000 inhabitants) which are classified in the latest government Indices of Multiple Deprivation as being in the lowest 20%.

Within these two overarching themes, Trusthouse funds in three broad areas: Community Support, Disability and Healthcare and Arts, Education and Heritage. There are three grant schemes: Large Grants for applications between £10,000 and £30,000 for capital appeals only, Small Grants for applications between £5,001 and £9,999 for revenue and/or capital costs and Fast Track Grants for applications of £5,000 and below for revenue and/or capital costs. The Darlington & County Durham Black and Minority Ethnic (BME) Community Development Service

This service has a team of seven Community Development Workers and a Service Manager. They are employed by Mental Health Matters and have been commissioned by County Durham and Darlington Primary Care Trusts, in response to the National Programme of Delivering Race Equality in Mental Health Care (DRE).

Delivering race equality is a five year action plan aimed at tackling discrimination in the NHS and local authority mental health services. The DRE is an intrinsic part of the Department of Health's wider equality and human rights strategy. By implementing the DRE it will mean that standards under the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000 will be adhered to.

The aim of the scheme and the DRE action plan is based around three main objectives:

- better, more responsive services.
- better engagement of services with their local communities
- better information.

It is understood that together, these three areas of development will reform mental health care and other areas of public service.

The team, based at the County Durham PCT Building, Merrington House, Merrington Lane Industrial Estate, Spennymoor, DL16 7UT can be contacted on 0191 3013851 or email:

Ask the Experts: Village Hall Licences for Music

Performing Rights Society (PRS) and Phonographic Performance Limited (PPL)

Could you please explain the difference between a PPL and PRS licence and are these both required by a village hall. What does each cover?+

Performing Right Society (PRS) Licence

When music is played in public the owner of the copyright is entitled, by law, to payment from the music user. The Performing Right Society is an organisation that collects and distributes this money (known as 'royalties') to its members - the owner of the copyright (usually the composer or their publisher). A PRS licence is required for the live performance or public playing of copyright music by any means. This includes jukeboxes, CDs, video, radio, TV or live bands and discs. Contact PRS on 0800 068 4828

Phonographic Performance Ltd (PPL)

A PPL licence is needed for the public playing of original sound recordings; e.g. CDs, tapes or records, including jukeboxes and background music systems and by means of radio or TV in the vast majority of cases. PPL represent the record companies who own the copyright in the recording.

- In most circumstances when background music is provided, both PRS and PPL licences are required.

Contact PPL on 020 7534 1000

Why do we need both?

PRS administers the performing right in musical works such as songs or instrumentals etc. Phonographic Performance Ltd (PPL) licenses rights similar to PRS but in relation to copyright sound recordings rather than original musical works which may have been embodied in them. So, if you play CDs, tapes or records you may also need a PPL licence as well as one from PRS. PPL represents record companies and performers. PRS represents composers, songwriters and music publishers.

And don't forget...

Video Performance Ltd (VPL)

A VPL licence is needed for the public playing of music videos. VPL represent the companies who own the 'film' copyright in the music videos themselves. Contact VPL on 020 7534 1000.
